

‘Practical Approaches to Electronic Records: the Academy and Beyond’

Friday, May 21, 2010

Baxter Conference Suite, 1st Floor, Tower Building University of Dundee

Programme

9:30 Registration and coffee

10:00 Introduction: Patricia Whatley, Director, CAIS

Session 1: Programme Assessment and Planning

Chair: Dr Chris Prom, University of Dundee

10:10 Dr Ian Anderson, Senior Lecturer in New Technologies for the Humanities, HATII, University of Glasgow
‘The Archivist is Dead, Long Live the Archivist!’

10.45 Malcolm Todd, Digital Archives Advice Manager, The National Archives, London
‘Horses for Courses: Scaling our Solutions to Support Implementation, Cost Effectiveness, and Trust’

11:20 Coffee

11:40 Dr William Kilbride, Executive Director, Digital Preservation Coalition ‘Digital Preservation: Things I wish I knew before I started (and which you might want to know before you do)’

12:15 Remarks and Discussion

12:45 Lunch

Session 2: Implementation Tools and Techniques

Chair: Dr Karen Anderson, Mid-Sweden University

13:45 Dr Viv Cothey, E-Preservation Archivist, Gloucestershire Archives
‘Implementing Digital Curation in Local Authority Archives’

- 14:15 Peter Cliff, Oxford University Bodleian Library
'BEAM: Developing and Implementing Tools to Manage Hybrid Archives'
- 14:45 Dr Susanne Belovari, Archivist for Reference and Collections, Tufts University Digital Collections and Archives, Boston
'Digital Preservation - the Planets Way: can it work for smaller archives?'
- 15:15 Tea
- 15:30 Dr Chris Prom, Fulbright Distinguished Scholar, University of Dundee
'Building an Electronic Archives Programme on a Shoestring'
- 16:00 Round up remarks and discussion, Dr William Maher, University Archivist, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
- 16:30 Dr Chris Prom, Conclusions