Economic Studies Lecture

Financial Intermediation, Growth & Regulation

Dr Richard Reid

International Centre for Financial Regulation (ICFR)
& University of Dundee

Wednesday, 3rd November 2010

4:00-5:30 PM

Dalhousie 3G02 (LT1)

This lecture will look at the G20 regulatory response to the financial crisis and consider some of the issues surrounding the size and structure of the financial system and its role in economic growth. It will also consider the policy implications of the surge in capital flows to emerging economies and the tools being used to manage these.

Dr Richard Reid is the Director of Research and Chief Economist for the International Centre for Financial Regulation (ICFR) in London. Prior to joining the ICFR Dr Reid was a Managing Director in the Economics Department of Citigroup; the Chief International Economist for Donaldson Lufkin & Jenrette and the Chief European Economist for UBS. Dr Reid also served as a special adviser to the British Parliament's Treasury and Civil Service Committee on International Monetary Affairs. He holds a Ph.D. and M.Sc. (Strathclyde University) in financial economics and an M.A. (Aberdeen University) in Economic History. He is currently an Honorary Senior Research Fellow in Economic Studies at the University of Dundee.
