An essential resource for supporting Primary and Nursery schools to establish Peer and Parent Assisted Learning Projects.

The booklet includes detailed reports from a range of Primary and Nursery schools outlining how they planned and developed their projects. There is also a useful planning proforma, evaluation guidelines and a comprehensive list of resources and website links.

The accompanying DVD demonstrates a range of projects detailed in the booklet and includes theoretical background and research evidence from Dr Keith Topping. This is a useful resource to raise awareness and inform staff and parent training meetings.

Action for Inclusion will:

- explore the meaning of inclusion in education and beyond
- provide information and guidance on important new developments in inclusion and on special educational needs
- promote interesting, imaginative and innovative practice in schools and other settings
- give a voice to those children and their parents and carers who are challenging exclusion.

Action for Inclusion will be accessible and practical. We want the magazine to be solution-focussed with ideas, suggestions and pointers that can be used to develop and enrich our ways of working.

Action for Inclusion will start from a Birmingham perspective but from the outset and increasingly we will incorporate work from other parts of the country. The magazine will be produced six times a year (twice a term) and it will be circulated widely so that we can create a national platform for work on inclusion.
