Dundee is situated beside a broad estuary of the River Tay surrounded by hills and farmland. The Tay road and rail bridges over the estuary provide a striking introduction to the city: you round a bend and suddenly the city is spread out before you in a wide panorama.

The city is dominated by the basalt plug of an extinct volcano, called Dundee Law. If you climb the 571 feet you will be rewarded with fantastic views of the city and its surroundings. Dundee is south-facing and is Scotland's sunniest city. The climate is mild and snowfalls are rare.
The University of Dundee city campus is a short walk from Dundee city centre and the railway station. Situated in the city’s culture quarter the University is ideally placed for conferences and events; offering modern and flexible conference accommodation, en suite bedrooms and an in house hospitality service to cater for all events.

The campus comprises of a pleasing balance of late Victorian, Edwardian and post modern architecture punctuated by attractive landscaped spaces.

Opened in 2007 and designed to encourage innovation and creativity; the Dalhousie Building offers flexible, high quality spaces. A designated teaching facility accommodating up to 2500 in an impressive array of lecture theatre, IT suites and general teaching spaces. All networked and fully equipped with a full range of presentation equipment.

With an impressive entrance and double height glazed foyer which offers exhibition and hospitality space, the Dalhousie building combines functionality with sharp contemporary design. All four lecture theatres are networked to permit audio visual access to almost 800 delegates. Video conferencing is also available.

The Dalhousie Building is an ideal venue for both private and public sector conferences, and seminars throughout the year but particularly May – September.
Opened in 1956, the Tower building was described as a symbol of modernity and strength; today it is home to the governing and administrative offices within the University. Situated on Perth Road the Tower is the southern gateway and main entrance to the University.

D’Arcy Thomson Lecture Theatre is accessed from the foyer as are the ground floor meeting rooms. The lecture theatre and most rooms carry the full range of audio visual presentation equipment.
Flexible Food Options

The University has two in house caterers offering a variety of catering services, from day delegate rates and drinks receptions to full board packages for residential guests. A hospitality package can be designed specifically to meet the needs of each event.

Residential Accommodation

375 en suite bedrooms are available to conferences and groups June – August each year; the majority are single rooms however there are a limited number of double rooms. The bedrooms are contained within student apartments with either 6 or 7 bedrooms, each apartment has a communal area with kitchen.

The residential accommodation is modern, comfortable and well appointed, Belmont Tower is in the heart of the campus and Seabraes Apartments are on the campus perimeter.

Hotel Accommodation

Assistance in providing hotel accommodation in the city can also be provided if campus accommodation is either not available or not required. The University has a good working relationship with a number of local hotels.
